Market Gossip.

SAUCES FOR MEATS, FISH AND VEGETABLES.

The juices that flow from rare cooked meats are the best sauce for them; but do not try to make them go farther by pouring hot water over the meat as it is carved. A steak cooked to a turn needs only salt; it may have butter if it has but little fat; lamb chops need only salt, but many like to add a little lemon juice, or minced parsley, or tomato sauce, to both meats, and also to meaty other broiled meats, like chicken, tripe, etc. Apple sauce should be served with pork, duck and goose; cranberry sauce seems to belong to turkey and roast chicken. Oily fish broiled needs but little butter, but salt and lemon juice may be used generously. White fish, like halibut, cod, etc., needs rich white sauce flavored with egg, lemon and onion. There is a common philosophy in making sauces. Remember that two level tablespoonfuls of butter mixed with two level tablespoonfuls of flour will thicken each half pint of liquid. For a white sauce rub the fat and flour together, and add a half pint of milk; stir until boiling. For a tomato sauce rub the fat and flour together, and add a half pint of nicely seasoned strained tomatoes. For a brown sauce, use half a pint of stock. For English drawn butter, rub the fat and flour together, and add a half pint of boiling water; stir until boiling, then add a seasoning of salt and pepper, and stir in, at last, an extra tablespoonful of butter. The seasonings of course, will vary, but each sauce will require a tablespoonful of pepper and half a teaspoonful of salt. By remembering the proportions one may make a dozen sauces in a very few minutes and have them all smooth and palatable.

WHITE SAUCE FOR WHITE MEATS, AND SOUPS, FISH, VEGETABLES, EGGS, TOAST, OR PUDDINGS.
(Mrs. Lincoln.)

In a granite saucepan, melt and mix one rounded tablespoonful each of butter or Cottole and flour, and from one-fourth to one-half level teaspoonful of salt. Add gradually one cupful of hot water, or milk, or cream, or stock from oysters, white-fish, or meats. Stir till smooth.

FOR TOAST
Nothing more is needed, but dip toast in hot milk, if liked soft.

FOR MEAT AND FISH
Add lemon juice, cayenne, capers, bits of oysters, lobsters, or cooked celery, and a few drops of onion juice; or cook one rounded teaspoonful minced onion, or celery, or green pepper, or bit of bay leaf, in the butter before adding flour.

FOR VEGETABLES
Add pepper, or minced sweet pepper, or parsley, and to cauliflower, and a few others, add grated cheese, or lemon juice.

FOR WHITE SOUPS
Add a bit of bay leaf, one-fourth teaspoonful mixed whole spice or parsley, one rounded tablespoonful onion, or sweet pepper, or grated carrot.

FOR PICKED-UP CODFISH OR CHIPPED BEEF
Make the plain white sauce (above) with milk, and add one beaten egg just before serving.

SUGARED SWEET POTATOES.
(Mrs. Lincoln.)

Cook in boiling water, peel, slice lengthwise, and put in baking dish with sprinkling of sugar, cinnamon, salt, and bits of butter; add water to half cover, and bake till brown, basting often.

POTATOES AU GRATIN.
(Miss Willis.)

Have ready one pint of cold boiled potatoes cut into dice. Make a cream sauce with two level tablespoonfuls of butter, two level tablespoonfuls of flour, and one cup of milk. Season with one-half teaspoonful of salt, and dash of pepper. Add one-half to three-fourths cupful of rich, yellow cheese, shaved fine, and stir over hot water until cheese is dissolved. Put alternate layers of the sauce and potatoes in a baking dish, and cover the top layer of sauce with buttered bread crumbs. Brown in quick oven.
